Applications are invited for:

TEMPORARY LECTURER POSITION IN THE CINEMA AND DIGITAL MEDIA PROGRAM
NARRATIVE FILM PRODUCTION

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA AT DAVIS

The Program for Cinema and Digital Media at the University of California, Davis, invites applications for a lecturer position in the Cinema and Digital Media Program to teach Narrative Film Production classes during Spring Quarter of the 2015-2016 school year (3/24/2016 – 6/9/2016). Courses include CTS 174: ACTING FOR CAMERA and TCS 175: SMALL SCALE FILM PRODUCTION. A lecturer teaches a three-hour studio class twice a week and holds regular office hours for students. We are open to hiring one person for both courses or two separate people. Both courses will be scheduled for Tuesdays and Thursdays.

With an overarching focus on narrative film production, these classes introduce students to techniques of contemporary film making and working with actors for narrative film production. These courses should integrate practical skills with conceptual foundations in a way that takes advantage of the instructor’s strengths, interests and background. Applicants should be film makers or performers with professional practices and expertise in the field of narrative film production.

Qualifications include:

- An appropriate terminal degree; e.g., MFA, Ph.D., or equivalent training and professional experience.
- Demonstrated teaching ability and experience.
- A developing record of creative, scholarly, or professional achievement in an area of expertise related to the subject area described in this announcement.

Closing date for applications is Jan. 8, 2016. Please submit the following materials to the recruitment website: https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF00762.

- Curriculum vitae
- List of classes you have taught, where, and when
- Letter of interest including desired course(s) to be taught
- Digital portfolio of up to five relevant creative works or five published works
- Names and contact information of three references.

This is a non-tenured, temporary position: the appointments to the title of Lecturer are self-terminating (no further notice on non-reappointment will be forthcoming) and do not create an obligation on the part of the University either to extend or renew the appointment outlined above. Any reappointment will be preceded by an assessment.

Proof of citizenship or eligibility for US employment required prior to employment (Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986).

This position is subject to UC policy and is covered by a collective bargaining unit.
