

Careers in the Arts

A BROWN-BAG LUNCH SERIES

Thinking about an internship in the art world?

You should! Internships complement your coursework in art history. They can provide you with an opportunity to develop skills related to Art or Art History and give you a deeper understanding of art institutions and career possibilities. In this brown bag session, Art History graduate students Cristina Urrutia, Rachel Brubaker and Brittany Royer will talk about their experiences interning at the Crocker Art Museum and the DeYoung Museum. Ashley Odell from the Career and Internship Center will discuss the value of internships and how to find one. Julie McGilvray, Arts Group Advising Center, will be on hand to moderate and help you take that next step toward an internship in the arts.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 23rd from 12:00-1:00
EVERSON 148

Sponsored by the Department of Art and Art History, Visual Resources Facility, Internship and Career Center, and Work of Art: Career Series for Students in the Arts
