

Careers in the Arts

A BROWN-BAG LUNCH SERIES

Photograph from Monet Clark's "California Girl: A Retrospective Debut" exhibition

Join us in a conversation with

Jasmine Moorhead, Krowswork

Jasmine Moorhead is the owner and director of Krowswork, a video and photography gallery in Oakland. She has worked in New York at MOMA and Dia Center for the Arts. She worked in several galleries in California before starting Krowswork. She has featured artists such as Shana Moulton, Christina McPhee and Shalo P, and hosted the annual Summer of Video Art. Krowswork was cited by Oakland Magazine in 2010 as the Best of the Bay for Innovative New Gallery and has received press in the SF Chronicle, Artillery and Art Ltd. magazines, the Huffington Post and others. Krowswork is a member of the Oakland Art Murmur and is proud to be a part of the thriving Oakland art scene.

TUESDAY, APRIL 9th at 12-1 in EVERSON 157

Sponsored by the Programs in Art History and Art Studio